Research Documents – Internal Use (within your company)

We welcome you, the Licensed User, to open as many Gartner Research documents as you like: for your personal use within your job and within the scope of your Service.

While you may print one hard copy of a Gartner Research document for your personal use in your job role, as a general rule Gartner Research documents cannot be shared:

With individual non-Users; or

Via email, intranet posting, or other information storage & retrieval systems.

If your job role requires you to share Gartner Research internally with your colleagues, you may:

Briefly summarize* the Gartner Research in your own words for your project team or senior-level decision makers (attributing Gartner as the source).

Include small excerpt* of Gartner Research (e.g., a few lines of text not to exceed 5 sentences, a paragraph, or a specific graphic) in an internal report or presentation (attributing Gartner as the source).

*NOTE: This is an acceptable use so long as it is:

not done on a systematic or routine basis (e.g., by a Licensed User who consistently distributes a periodic summary or excerpt of Gartner Research or who leverages a company business process that allows non-Users to routinely approach the Licensed User to meet their Gartner Research needs);

limited to an internal audience only of no more than 15 people; and not done with the intent or effect of avoiding the purchase of additional User licenses.

REMINDER: This is a baseline license that may vary depending on your purchased product. Click here for further guidance.

Username & Passwords Usage Guidelines

As a Licensed User, you will receive a unique Username and Password, which is for your personal use only, and may not be shared inside or outside your company.

There are two exceptions where your Username and Password may be reassigned to another within your company:

- If your job responsibilities substantially change so that you no longer require access to the Gartner Services; or
- If you permanently leave your company.

NOTE: When your company substitutes a Licensed User, the new Licensed User must be located in the same country as the original Licensed User. Where not possible, please consult your Account Executive for an appropriate solution.

NOTE: In situations where your company desires to assign a license to a contractor/sub-contractor

- The contractor must be a full-time equivalent, meaning they have a company assigned email address, company business cards and function for all intents and purposes as a full-time employee (as opposed to a temporary contractor for a discrete term);
- Company must contractually agree to pass on to contractor the Usage Guidelines and to be liable in the event of any misuse or non-compliance with the Services;
- Contractor must agree to only use the Services for your company (i.e., the company that issued the license);
- In no instance is it ever acceptable for a Licensed User to share their Username and Password with the contractor; and
- Upon termination of the contractor's service term with your company please arrange to reassign the User License to another within your company per guidelines referenced above.
