Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011 (AB 109) Grant Guidelines

SUMMARY

The Public Safety Realignment Plan for Monterey County was developed by the local Community Corrections Partnership (CCP) and approved by its Executive Committee and Monterey County Board of Supervisors.

DISCUSSION

The Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011 shifts responsibility for low-level offenders and parole supervision from the state to the counties. The state will continue to incarcerate offenders who commit serious, violent, or sex crimes, but the counties will supervise, rehabilitate and manage lower-level offenders. Local authority is extended to three new populations: a) specified non-violent, non-serious, non-sex offenders (“non-non-non”), who will no longer be sent to a state prison, but could serve time in jail and/or be supervised by Probation; b) eligible offenders who, after their prison sentence, will be managed by Probation under the new Post Release Community Supervision Program (PRCS); and c) parole violators who did not commit a new crime.

The Public Safety Realignment Plan promotes the design and implementation of a system of “community-based punishment” utilizing evidence-based correctional sanctions and programming other than jail incarceration. Intermediate sanctions include Electronic Monitoring, flash incarceration, community service, participation in residential and outpatient treatment programs, and educational and vocational training services. This represents a balanced approach that combines offender case management based on classification of recidivism risk, alternatives to detention, jail management and local incarceration, and evidence-based rehabilitative and treatment services for individuals under PRCS, Mandatory Supervision, and high-risk probationers.
