SUMMARY/DISCUSSION:

The goal of Maternal Child Adolescent Health Program (MCAH) is to develop systems that protect and improve the health of Monterey County's women of reproductive age, infants, children, adolescents, and their families. Monterey County Health Department's MCAH Program will incorporate a substance abuse screening tool into their comprehensive assessments for pregnant women during their home visits.

NTI's 4Ps Plus Screening Tool (4Ps Plus) is used by several California counties, meets CDPH requirements as a valid evidence-based screening tool designed specifically for pregnant women and was specifically identified as the tool to be used in the MCAH Agreement between the County and CDPH.

The 4Ps Plus (a copyrighted instrument) is a questionnaire that screens for alcohol, tobacco, illicit drug use, depression, and domestic violence. Based on the answers given by the client, analysis of the questionnaire will help identify risk factors for these listed areas of concern. MCAH will utilize the 4Ps Plus and collect data to determine its future usefulness, as well as to track the number of short interventions and types of referrals staff will provide clients as a result of their “positive” screening(s). Clients will be given the option to opt out of the use of the 4Ps Plus, during the home visit by MCHD staff.
