5. CAO Comments and Referrals

There were no CAO comments or referrals.

6. Board Comments

Supervisor Jane Parker noted that last Wednesday, she attended the Monterey Bay Joint Community Powers JPA meeting as the County's primary representative. She was thrilled to be part of launching this innovative, regional collaborative in electricity choices. Supervisor John M. Phillips attended as the County Alternate and Lew Bauman attended as the Policy Board Representative. Nick Chiulos and Dan Bertoldi performed a lot of the work leading up to this meeting and were also in attendance. It was exciting to see all three counties, and most of the cities were present in force. It was a very engaged group. She expects a vibrant and robust dialogue about issues and choices ahead. Supervisor Jane Parker noted it's refreshing to work with sister cities and counties to see what can be accomplished for the benefit of County residents.

Supervisor Luis Alejo expressed his support for TAMC's search for a replacement shelter. He advised the search continues to find a temporary shelter site after May 30th and a permanent shelter site after May 31st in Salinas. He'd like an update to be placed on the agenda next week. He advised he and his staff are looking at other models this coming Friday. They will be visiting shelters in San Francisco and Fresno's Village of Hope in an effort to see what lessons can be learned and what solutions can be found.

Supervisor Luis Alejo suggested a town hall meeting or special meeting of the Board, in conjunction with Congressman Panetta, would be timely given the recent vote regarding possible elimination of the Affordable Care Act (ACA). He advised this would be an opportunity to analyze impacts on healthcare in California and Monterey County, receive input from healthcare professionals, hospitals, clinics, as well as educate County constituents, seniors and people with pre-existing conditions. Up to 4 million people could lose healthcare in this state. He looks forward to a follow-up on this meeting.
