Almost a year ago I retired from both federal and city government, where my skills were honed, and I gained experience that fed my deep sense of responsibility and commitment. It has always been important for me to be of service to our community and I would be honored to be considered for this county position.

Our airports provide community members, businesses, and visitors invaluable connections to the world. As a city resident within the MRY's area of influence, I want to understand better and help decide how close land use decisions are made to ensure a healthy, delicate balance of economic growth, environmental protection, and lifestyle.
