Dear Mr. Miller,

It is my pleasure to write a letter in support of our collaboration on the data center co-location project.

Natividad Medical Center identified the need for a data recovery site several years ago to ensure continuity of operations in the event of a natural disaster or catastrophic failure of our internal systems. Our analysis confirms that our planned co-location site will be far more cost effective than contracting with a third party data recovery provider.

In conclusion, Natividad Medical Center fully supports and has committed funding to this effort. We look forward to collaborating with your office on securing the co-location facility.

Sincerely,
