For nearly 40 years, I have been primarily self-employed. Most of the businesses that I have been involved with are water dependent. That, along with my work as a manager of a small mutual water system, has allowed me to develop an awareness of water quality, availability and conservation issues. I have also been deeply involved in a number of issues involving government, human rights and science.

Education

1978-1981. Hartnell College

Associate of Arts. Valedictorian 1981.

1981-83. University of California, Santa Cruz

Studied Politics and American History.

Work Experience

1999-2012. President, Pacific Coast Soils, Inc.

Consultant on moisture retention and fertility for landscape, gardening and agricultural soils

2013-Present. Owner/Operator Church Christmas Tree Farms

2015-Present. Manager, Hidden Valley Water Association (mutual water company)

Responsibilities include maintenance of the water system, billing and record keeping, and regulatory compliance

Additional Background

- Alternate Director, Salinas Valley Basin Groundwater Sustainability Agency
- Served on several informal county committees in 1980s-1990s, including one that formed Monterey County's first oak tree removal ordinance.
- 1984-2016. Public speaker on issues of human rights, science and technology.

Reasons for Wanting to Serve

I have served as an Alternate Director on the interim SVBGSA since its creation. I filled in for Director Lou Calcagno in two meetings during that time. Prior to that I attended many of the Collaborative Work Group and Stakeholder meetings before the agency was formed. I am familiar with the issues before this agency.

There are many diverse needs for water in the Salinas Valley basin: commercial, agricultural, residential and environmental are some of those. The permanent Board needs to mirror those interests, and it appears that it will to a great degree. However, nearly 40,000 people in the county are served by mutual water companies of 16-199 connections. This is approximately 1/10th of the county's population, and, presumably, 1/10th of the population in the Salinas Valley basin. Like the smaller systems of 2-15 connections, these companies are served by the Health Department and not directly by the state. These mutual water companies face stress from the drought, increasing regulations and water quality issues. They need representation on this Board. The SVBGSA's Advisory Board has about two dozen members but no one has been specifically selected to represent the smaller mutual water companies. No one on the interim Board represents that viewpoint but myself. It is important for tens of thousands of people to have someone with an understanding of their water concerns be able to speak for them just as agriculture, cities, water companies and the environment have representatives.

I manage a mutual water company of 31 residential connections, operate a farm and businesses. My experience has allowed me to see that there is no single path to solving our water problems. It is going to require compromise and patience. There is a need for new approaches while respecting diverging opinions. Neither farmers, businesses, homeowners nor any other water interest must bear the brunt of whatever solutions are proposed. The burden must be shared as equally as possible. Board members need to be able to express the concerns of the constituency they represent, but they must have an open mind to develop a solution for the entire Salinas Valley basin. I am committed to that.

I am currently residing in Lockwood CA, with my family, on a small 40 acre farm. I have been in Southern Monterey County all my life working in agriculture.

I have been in the irrigation industry for the past 27 years. I began working for RDO Water as a Field Supervisor, moved into the Irrigation Specialist position, and am currently a Sales Account Manager.

Understanding our valley infrastructure is very important in keeping our dams, rivers, and watershed clean and viable for the foreseeable future. I understand what the rain, watersheds, San Antonio and Nacimiento dams provide for our rich valley floor.

Living in the Salinas Valley for 52 years I feel I can be an asset in this position.
