

Grant (CSBG) funds. Quality data and outcomes must be reported annually using national standardized performance indicators. These are established and maintained by the federal Office of Community Services and overseen in California by the state Department of Community Services and Development (CSD) through an annual report. The report supports a focus on improved data collection, analysis, and continuous learning. Information is used to improve performance, track results from year to year and assure accountability for critical outcomes. The vendor, Community Software Group provides the statewide services for the CSD, ensuring established methods for collecting data consistent with state and federal requirements.

As of 2020, CSD required agencies to comply with planning, monitoring, and reporting standards. MCCAP implemented the data system in 2019. This process included training subcontractors to use the software and transition from manual data collection methods. The current manual system for collecting data does not meet new state requirements as it does not have a method for capturing unduplicated data.

CSG is MCCAP's preferred vendor because its software meets state and federal reporting standards and is used by CSD to oversee agencies administering CSBG funds. Using the same data system ensures consistency and compatibility with CSD reporting requirements. Other considerations for choosing CSG are the cost-effectiveness of procuring licenses for county contractors and accessibility of tech-support.

The original agreement contained nonstandard indemnification provisions and was previously approved by your Board on May 19, 2020.
