SUMMARY/DISCUSSION:

In March 2013, NMC advertised a Request for Qualifications (RFQ #9600-48) for interior design services. The hospital desired a standalone firm not affiliated with an architectural service company that specialized in healthcare design (minimum of five years of experience) that could work collaboratively with the hospital, architectural/engineering firms, and general contractors. The selected firm would have the ability to provide all aspects of hospital interior design to include interior finishes, furniture planning and specifications, systems furniture planning and specifications, art planning, and signage design on an as needed basis for a period up to five years. The services will be provided in individual "Service Packages" which are defined as a separate and distinct portion of services to be performed by the interior design firm. Each service package will define and outline the schedule, scope and cost, along with other specific details for each project on an individual basis.

NMC selected Gallun Snow Associates, Inc. through this competitive bid process (RFQ #9600-48). Gallun Snow is an interior design firm that specializes in hospital design; creating a holistic, healing environment. NMC requested $150,000 for each Fiscal Year of the five year contract totaling $750,000. The $150,000 per year was requested based on spend from previous years for the same services at NMC.

This amendment is extending the term and adding to the original scope of work for the purpose of allowing Gallun Snow to continue providing interior design services as needed for ongoing projects which includes the completion of the Radiology Upgrade Project. In addition, due to an increase in projects within the last two years, NMC has expended nearly all of the originally projected amount of $150,000 per Fiscal Year; and as a result, is requesting $294,000 of which $161,000 is slated for use in this current Fiscal Year 2017-18. NMC is currently working on an RFQ solicitation for a new interior design services agreement for future project opportunities at NMC and anticipates a release in early 2018. The last RFQ for interior design services was completed back in 2013.

The following is a sample listing of projects and coordination that Gallun Snow will work on through the end of the contract term.
